Scalp Dance by Spokane Indians

Scalp Dance by Spokane Indians was done in 1847 in a village near Kettle Falls. The woman in the center had been widowed when the Blackfeet killed her husband. The stick she waves has a Blackfoot scalp on top of it. Courtesy of the National Gallery of Canada, Ottawa

Parent Content:
Sherman Alexie [1]

Image:

!Image

Category:
Artwork [2]

Image Type:
Painting [3]

Creator:
Paul Kane [4]

Intellectual Property:

Tags:
Paul Kane [5]

Source URL: https://www.modernamericanpoetry.org/image/scalp-dance-spokane-indians

Links
[1] https://www.modernamericanpoetry.org/poet/sherman-alexie
[3] https://www.modernamericanpoetry.org/image-type/painting